

Sally Brydon Booth

A Richmond native, Sally Booth has immersed herself in the elements of art, creating a diverse portrayal of expression through paint, especially watercolor and gouache. Her “humbling sport”, watercolor techniques, keeps her constantly challenged, continually learning and growing in order to aspire to never-ending personal achievement.

A graduate of Virginia Commonwealth University with a B.F.A. in Art Education, Sally is Past President and an active member of the James River Art League since 1998. Her artwork has been exhibited at For Art's Sake Gallery, Bank of America, Uptown Gallery, St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, St. Margaret's School, as well as many other local venues.

She has studied with Christaphora Robeers, Christopher Wynn, Brenda Bickerstaff-Stanley, Susan Stuller, Eleanor Cox, Emma Lou Martin, and many others. She has taken workshops from Skip Lawrence, Linda Baker, Pat Weaver, Andre Lucero, and Andras Bality.
