

David Cheatham

David Cheatham is a Midlothian native and currently lives in Richmond, VA. In 1976 he graduated from VA Tech with a BS in Art. Over the next 40 years he continued to paint as a hobby while raising a family – preferring food and shelter over his artistic interests.

Upon retiring from the wine industry in 2016 David was able to fully commit to his art. He creates oil paintings and colored pencil drawings. He enjoys the full process of painting – from the construction of the canvas to framing the finished piece. He feels that completing each part of the process is a small accomplishment in the overall development of his work.

David's subjects come from the photographs he takes around Richmond and other travel destinations.

He exhibits in galleries in Virginia, North Carolina and Florida.
