

Elizabeth Hood

As an artist, Elizabeth Hood focuses on shapes, color, textures and contrast. Her subjects include landscapes, people, animals and still lifes.

Elizabeth has always loved art and although exposed to many mediums and techniques as a young person, she focused primarily on drawing. After thirty-five years in the corporate world, she retired and rekindled her interest in the visual arts. She uses vibrant, saturated color and a wide value range to explore and express the forms and textures of her subjects. Her primary mediums are soft pastels, graphite, acrylic, and colored pencils.

Elizabeth is a member of James River Art League, currently serving as Treasurer, and she is also the Treasurer for the MidAtlantic Pastel Society. She exhibits at various venues in the region, and many pieces have received award recognition. Her art has been published in Northlight Books Art Journey: Portraits & Figures and Ann Kullberg's CP Hidden Treasures 5. She lives in Manakin Sabot, a beautiful rural community in Goochland County, Virginia, with her husband, their cat, and plenty of wildlife.
